

Do you know your rights?

Communication Rights Australia provides free advocacy & information services for people with little or no speech

Communication Rights Australia:

gives information about your rights and responsibilities

advocates for you

attends meetings with you

helps you to write letters helps you to make phone calls or will call people for you

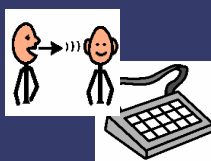

We can help you when you have problems with:

housing

funding

communication

being included

support

health care

day services

transport

If you want to know your rights & responsibilities or you think your rights have been restricted, contact

Communication Rights Australia

Unit 4, 3 Tuck Street Moorabbin VIC 3189

A.B.N. 25 120 926 829

"For people with little or no speech but plenty to say"

Phone: 03 9555 8552

Fax: 03 9555 8550

Email: info@caus.com.au